Electronic Communication Convergence Policy Challenges In Asia:

Electronic Communication Convergence Mark Hukill, Ryota Ono, Chandrasekhar Vallath, 2000-09-22 This timely collection of original essays focuses on the new and exciting convergence of electronic technologies i.e. telecommunications, broadcasting and information technology and their impact on Asia. This volume concludes that despite Asia's recent financial problems, investments in converging technologies of electronic communication have continued and have proved to be a barometer of recovery.

Telecommunications Development in Asia John URE, 2008-05-01 No industry has expanded faster than telecommunications; gained so many new users; added so much value; spread so rapidly to the underdeveloped areas of developing countries; done so much to close the digital divide and provide access to e-learning, e-health and e-commerce across the countries of the Asia Pacific. Telecommunications Development in Asia provides a completely new and comprehensive analysis of the policies adopted throughout the region that have led to the explosive growth of this sector. It is a sequel to the 1995 landmark publication Telecommunications in Asia: Policy, Planning and Development and like the earlier volume will become a popular and indispensable guide for professionals, policy makers and regulators working in telecommunications-related sectors. Part One of this new book is thematic. It reviews global best practices across a range of key issues facing the industry: from regulation, competition policy and the provision of universal service to interconnection between competing networks, the management of radio spectrum for the all-important wireless communications sector and an assessment of innovation in the telecommunications equipment market. Part Two examines markets across the Asia Pacific region, exploring the themes of Part One through in-depth country studies. Policy and regulations, industry trends and markets are uniquely placed in their historical, economic and political context. No other publication offers such comprehensive insights and understanding of the dynamic of these markets. And like the 1995 book, this one looks likely to stand the test of time.

Television, Regulation and Civil Society in Asia Philip Kitley, 2003-08-29 Kitley critically compares Western principles of broadcasting, civil society and cultural regulation with alternative Asian practices of regulation and organization.

The Future Internet Jenifer Winter, Ryota Ono, 2015-12-14 Readers seeking to gain a handle on the internet's global expansion will find this book rich in scholarly foundations combined with cutting-edge discussion of emerging ICTs and services and the complex societal contexts in which they are embedded. To explore possibilities to the fullest extent, a sociotechnical systems approach is employed, focusing on the interplay of technical, social, cultural, political and economic dynamics to explore alternative futures, ones that are not part of the dominant discourse about the internet. These shared perspectives are not well addressed elsewhere in current discussions. Awareness of these dynamics and the fluidity of the future is important as humankind moves forward into the uncertain future. Due to the sociotechnical complexity of the Internet, policymakers, businesspeople and academics worldwide have struggled to keep abreast of developments. This volume's approach is intended to stimulate dialogue between academics and practitioners on a topic that will affect most aspects of human life in the near term future     The New Economy and APEC , This report from the APEC Economic Committee responds to the Action Agenda for the New Economy announced by APEC leaders at their meeting in Brunei in November 2000 and starts the task of underpinning the theme of Meeting New Challenges in the New Century for the 2001 year with China at the helm     Media in China Stephanie Hemelryk Donald, Yin Hong, Michael Keane, 2014-02-04 Multinational media companies increasingly look to China as a highly important market for the future but with what degree of confidence should they do so Media in China is about a new kind of revolution in China a revolution in which rapidly commercializing media industries confront slow changing power relations between political social and economic spheres This interdisciplinary collection draws on the expertise of industry professionals academic experts and cultural critics It offers a variety of perspectives on audio visual industries in the world s largest media market In particular the contributors examine television film music commercial and political advertising and new media such as the internet and multimedia These essays explore evolving audience demographics new patterns of media reception in regional centres and the gradual internationalization of media content and foreign investment in China s broadcasting industries This book will of use to students and professionals involved in media and communication as well as anyone interested in contemporary China     Report University of Hong Kong.
