Freedom and Truth Joseph Estlin Carpenter,1925 Home Study for Electrical Workers ,1898 Freedom and Truth Howard Nicholson Brown,1916 The Secret of Happiness Edmond Holmes,1919 Ace of Freedoms George Kilcourse,1993 In Ace of Freedoms George Kilcourse explores the entire range of Thomas Merton's writings as embodying a Christ centered spirituality More specifically the book traces the development of the well known Trappist monk's explicit and implicit christology which Kilcourse claims can best be discovered within his impressive poetry corpus for it is there one finds the most compelling personifications of the true self or inner self Throughout Kilcourse demonstrates that Merton's understanding of who Jesus Christ is and what he has done for humanity proved to be intimately connected with two other dimensions of Merton's experience the quest of self identity and the use of autobiography as dialogue in which he voices the discovery of his deepest identity so as to empower readers to wrestle with their own spiritual identity Kilcourse begins by examining Merton's conversion as an experience of salvation Within his own Cistercian tradition Merton found the source for a more complete christology and a sapiential theology of experience He then discusses Merton's poetry describing the poet's ontological concerns in terms of a paradise consciousness To illustrate Merton's encounter with the inner self of others Kilcourse examines Merton's criticism of Pasternak Camus and Faulkner Finally Kilcourse explores how Merton's efforts at Western monastic renewal and the dialogue with the Asian spiritual traditions converged during his final years clarifying his christological understandings and further validating the kenotic patterns of Merton's mature work Ace of Freedoms will draw readers back to Merton's prose journals letters and especially his poetry in these works they will discover what influenced his spirituality and how it has garnered a unique staying power for today The Freedom of Life Annie Payson Call,1905 Purchase one of 1st World Library's Classic Books and help support our free internet library of downloadable eBooks Visit us online at www.1stWorldLibrary.ORG INTERIOR freedom rests upon the principle of non resistance to all the things which seem evil or painful to our natural love of self But non resistance alone can accomplish nothing good unless behind it there is a strong love for righteousness and truth By refusing to resist the ill will of others or the stress of circumstances for the sake of greater usefulness and a clearer point of view we deepen our conviction of righteousness as the fundamental law of life and broaden our horizon so as to appreciate varying and opposite points of view The only non resistance that brings this power is the kind which yields mere personal and selfish considerations for the sake of principles Selfish and weak yielding must always do harm Unselfish yielding on the other hand strengthens the will and increases strength of purpose as the petty obstacles of mere self love are removed Concentration alone cannot long remain wholesome for it needs the light of growing self knowledge to prevent its becoming self centred Yielding alone is of no avail for in itself it has no constructive power But if we try to look at ourselves as we really are we shall find great strength in yielding where only our small and private interests are concerned and concentrating upon living the broad principles of righteousness which must directly or indirectly affect all those with whom we come into contact
