Entangled Identities:

Entangled Identities Willfried Spohn, 2016-12-05 Providing a comprehensive and comparative analysis of the way national and European identities are intertwined in old and new member states of the European Union this volume assembles nine country case studies Each country has experienced different processes of state formation nation building and democratization thus they have each developed different forms of national identity and different patterns of interaction between national and European identities The case studies illuminate the similarities and differences in how national and European identities have evolved among the nine countries Rich in empirical data the volume examines the historical entanglement of national and European collective identities and is therefore well suited for courses on European studies including European integration and enlargement international relations and sociology

Entangled Identities and Otherness in Late Antique and Early Medieval Europe Jorge López Quiroga, Michel Kazanski, Vujadin Ivanišević, 2017 Much has been written in recent years about Identities understood as social nested or constructing identities or Ethnic Identity presented as a strategy of distinction and or identification as a multidimensional or endogenous ethnicity or also interpreted as a social construction social network negotiated or group identity and concerning the Archaeology of the Identity including the explicit relation between mortuary practices and Social Identities in a multi ethnic perspective or as a constructed strategy of shifting identities This book is not another brick in the wall but a contribution to break the wall between different disciplines in an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary framework We present in this volume fifteen papers focused on theoretical and interpretative proposals from the textual archaeological and bioarchaeological record as well as a series of case studies on certain European areas essentially throughout the analysis of the funeral world in the Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages

Carceral Spatiality Dominique Moran, Anna K. Schliehe, 2017-07-20 This edited collection speaks to and expands on existing debates around incarceration Rather than focusing on the bricks and mortar of institutional spaces this volume s inventive engagements in thinking through carcerality touch on more elusive concepts of identity memory and internal as well as physical walls and bars Edited by two human geographers and positioned within a criminological context this original collection draws together essays by geographers and criminologists with a keen interest in carceral studies The authors stretch their disciplinary boundaries tackling a range of contemporary literatures to engage in new conversations and raising important questions within current debates on incarceration A highly interdisciplinary project this edited collection will be of particular interest to scholars of the criminal justice system social policy and spatial carceral studies

The Critical Posthumanities and Postqualitative Inquiry in Psychology Javier Monforte, Brett Smith, 2026-03-25 At the turn of the 21st century after decades of resisting the quantitative imperative qualitative psychology and the psychological humanities seemed to have found some respite However the sense of stability was soon disrupted by the posthuman and postqualitative critique of humanism and the conventional assumptions and practices of qualitative research How have qualitative psychologists responded to this For the most part they have chosen to either sweep the posts under the rug or to carelessly dismiss them as faddish folderol This collection supports a more grounded response not by persuading readers that post inquiry is good and should be accepted but by helping them evaluate its claims thoughtfully This is one of the first collections to address questions such as What is post qualitative inquiry and where did it come from What does posthumanism mean for our understanding of ourselves as persons What should we make of the critical in critical posthumanisms Are qualitative and postqualitative inquiries incommensurable What might the posts mean to phenomenology and ethnography This volume includes contributions from leading voices such as Elisabeth St Pierre Svend Brinkmann and Vivienne Bozalek as well as emerging scholars who were introduced to research in a period characterised by multiple competing paradigms This book was originally published as a special issue of Qualitative Research in Psychology Europe and Latin America Ryszard Stemplowski,2010 Material Connections in the Ancient Mediterranean Peter van Dommelen,A.
