

American Options vs. European Options Pt. 1

EUROPEAN OPTION

AMERICAN OPTION

#1 MEANING

European Option gives the option holder the right to exercise the Option only at the pre-agreed future date and price.

American Option gives the option holder the right to exercise the Option at any date before the expiration date at the pre-agreed price.

#2 PREMIUM

Since the option holder of a European Option has the right to exercise the Option only at the expiration date, the premium is low.

The liberty to exercise the Option at any date prior to the expiration date makes the American Option in more demand, which makes it pricey.

#3 POPULARITY

European options are less popular and hence are traded less.

American options are in high demand since it gives the authority to exercise at any time, and hence the majority of the options market are American options.
