Gruesome Body:

What IS Sex? Alenka Zupancic, 2017-09-08 Why sexuality is at the point of a short circuit between ontology and epistemology Consider sublimation conventionally understood as a substitute satisfaction for missing sexual satisfaction But what if as Lacan claims we can get exactly the same satisfaction that we get from sex from talking or writing painting praying or other activities The point is not to explain the satisfaction from talking by pointing to its sexual origin but that the satisfaction from talking is itself sexual The satisfaction from talking contains a key to sexual satisfaction and not the other way around even a key to sexuality itself and its inherent contradictions The Lacanian perspective would make the answer to the simple seeming question What is sex rather more complex In this volume in the Short Circuits series Alenka Zupan i approaches the question from just this perspective considering sexuality a properly philosophical problem for psychoanalysis and by psychoanalysis she means that of Freud and Lacan not that of the kind of clinician practitioners called by Lacan orthopedists of the unconscious Zupan i argues that sexuality is at the point of a short circuit between ontology and epistemology Sexuality and knowledge are structured around a fundamental negativity which unites them at the point of the unconscious The unconscious as linked to sexuality is the concept of an inherent link between being and knowledge in their very negativity

Hideous Progeny Angela Smith, 2012-01-24 Twisted bodies deformed faces aberrant behavior and abnormal desires characterized the hideous creatures of classic Hollywood horror which thrilled audiences with their sheer grotesqueness Most critics have interpreted these traits as symptoms of sexual repression or as metaphors for other kinds of marginalized identities yet Angela M Smith conducts a richer investigation into the period s social and cultural preoccupations She finds instead a fascination with eugenics and physical and cognitive debility in the narrative and spectacle of classic 1930s horror heightened by the viewer s desire for visions of vulnerability and transformation Reading such films as Dracula 1931 Frankenstein 1931 Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde 1931 Freaks 1932 and Mad Love 1935 against early twentieth century disability discourse and propaganda on racial and biological purity Smith showcases classic horror s dependence on the narratives of eugenics and physiognomics She also notes the genre s conflicted and often contradictory visualizations Smith ultimately locates an indictment of biological determinism in filmmakers visceral treatments which take the impossibility of racial improvement and bodily perfection to sensationalistic heights Playing up the artifice and conventions of disabled monsters filmmakers exploited the fears and yearnings of their audience accentuating both the perversity of the medical and scientific gaze and the debilitating experience of watching horror Classic horror films therefore encourage empathy with the disabled monster offering captive viewers an unsettling encounter with their own impairment Smith s work profoundly advances cinema and disability studies in addition to general histories concerning the construction of social and political attitudes toward the Other

The Psychopolitics of Food Mihalís Mentínis, 2016-06-10 The Psychopolitics of Food probes into the contemporary foodscape examining culinary practices and food habits and in particular the ways in which they conflate with neoliberal political economy It suggests that generic alimentary and culinary practices constitute technologies of the self and the body and argues that the contemporary preoccupation with food takes the form of rites of passage that express and mark the transition from a specific stage of neoliberal development to another vis vis a re configuration of the alimentary and sexual regimes Even though these rites of passage are taking place on the borders of cultural bi polarities their function nevertheless is precisely to define these borders as sites of a neoliberal transitional demand that is to produce a cultural bifurcation between eating orders and eating dis orders by promoting and naturalising certain social logics while simultaneously rendering others as abject and anachronistic The book is a worthwhile read for researchers and advanced scholars in the areas of food studies critical psychology anthropology and sociology
