Gamblers Luck:

What's Luck Got to Do with It? Joseph Mazur, 2010-05-17 The hazards of feeling lucky in gambling Why do so many gamblers risk it all when they know the odds of winning are against them Why do they believe dice are hot in a winning streak Why do we expect heads on a coin toss after several flips have turned up tails What s Luck Got to Do with It takes a lively and eye opening look at the mathematics history and psychology of gambling to reveal the most widely held misconceptions about luck It exposes the hazards of feeling lucky and uses the mathematics of predictable outcomes to show when our chances of winning are actually good Mathematician Joseph Mazur traces the history of gambling from the earliest known archaeological evidence of dice playing among Neolithic peoples to the first systematic mathematical studies of games of chance during the Renaissance from government administered lotteries to the glittering seductions of grand casinos and on to the global economic crisis brought on by financiers trillion dollar bets Using plenty of engaging anecdotes Mazur explains the mathematics behind gambling including the laws of probability statistics betting against expectations and the law of large numbers and describes the psychological and emotional factors that entice people to put their faith in winning that ever elusive jackpot despite its mathematical improbability As entertaining as it is informative What s Luck Got to Do with It demonstrates the pervasive nature of our belief in luck and the deceptive psychology of winning and losing Some images inside the book are unavailable due to digital copyright restrictions

Feelings Materialized Derek Hillard, Heikki Lempa, Russell A. Spinney, 2020-01-10 Of the many innovative approaches to emerge during the twenty first century one of the most productive has been the interdisciplinary nexus of theories and methodologies broadly defined as the study of emotions While this conceptual toolkit has generated significant insights it has overwhelmingly focused on emotions as linguistic and semantic phenomena This edited volume looks instead to the material aspects of emotion in German culture encompassing the body literature photography aesthetics and a variety of other themes

Everybody's Magazine, 1902 The Water Fall John S. Goscinski, 2015-01-15 John Benumeane a budding solar engineer whos just moved to Southern California learns the hard way how cruel and unrelenting Mother Nature can be Its the winter of 2004 an El Nio is back with a vengeance A horrific weather related accident a car collision with a two hundred year old eucalyptus tree lands John in the hospital where he spends the next two years in a coma locked in a struggle between life and death He awakens in a different world than the one he left Although he suffers no physical impairment from the terrible accident he finds he has a supernatural power that slowly takes control of his life His own impetuous behavior is rivaled only by that of his wife who in her own bid to survive the lonely years without him has reinvented herself in ways that defy description. The challenge for the two young lovers is to find common ground that will lead them back to the life they once knew. But that ground is elusive and unstable, prompting John's wife to turn to John's old college friend for help, and when she does the plot thickens. By then a drought has gripped the Lower Forty Eight and the real estate market is hyperventilating from reckless malfeasance with John's wife in the center of it all. The people she works for want to own John and the very special gift he's come to possess, but she has other ideas. Her story within a story has twists and turns that will keep you guessing till the very end.

Gambling is an underrecognized problem from both a clinical and a public health point of view. It is not uncommon for an adolescent or adult to participate in one form of gambling or another on a regular basis, be it the lottery, card playing for money, sports wagering, or gambling on electronic gaming devices. Nor is it uncommon for such participation to reach excessive or destructive proportions with negative effects on the individual's psychological, social, economic, and family life. The results of the National Research Council's 2000 review of empirical studies suggest that 85% of adolescents report having gambled during their lifetime, with 73% of adolescents reporting having gambled in the past year. Despite gains in knowledge concerning the correlates and risk factors associated with severe gambling problems among youth during the past ten years, a general lack of public and parental awareness exists. This raises serious mental health and public policy concerns. Written from an international perspective, this book covers gambling research and interventions in the following categories: role of helpline services; a Jungian transpersonal approach to treatment; cognitive therapy for problem gambling; pharmacological interventions for problem gambling; desensitization/biofeedback as treatment for problem gambling; binge gambling; pathological gambling; past and contemporary Aboriginal peoples' experiences with gambling; problem gambling counselor certification; measurement of outcomes in problem gambling; treatment overview of teen gambling; related issues from leading researchers.

The Gambler Billye B. Currie, 2007. This is the first ever book on gamblers and gambling from a Jungian perspective. Most studies of gambling activities focus on addiction to the games, but this book covers the gamut from recreational to pathological gambling. The author explores the archetypal foundations of the gambler through 1) amplification of images of Lady Luck, 2) the role of play as an activity informing the gambler's approach to the game, and 3) images of the gambler on the continuum from play to addiction, all in the service of becoming better acquainted with the gambler in ourselves and in those around us.
