A Heart Divided Cherie Bennett, Jeff Gottesfeld, 2009-05-06 Is the Confederate battle flag a racist symbol or a proud reminder of Southern heritage When Kate s liberal minded family moves from the suburbs of New York City to a small town near Nashville Kate is convinced her life is over Redford lives up to Kate s low expectations The Confederate battle flag waves proudly in the sky the local diner serves grits and sweet tea and country music rules the airwaves Then she meets Jackson Redford III scion of the town and embodiment of everything Dixie And dang if brilliant gorgeous Jack doesn t make Kate decide that maybe her new hometown isn t so bad after all But a petition to replace the school s Confederate flag symbol is stirring up trouble Kate dives right in not afraid to attack what she sees as offensive Getting involved means making enemies though and soon Kate and Jack and their families find themselves pitted against each other in a bitter controversy not just about the flag but about what it means to be an American Heart Divided Al Lacy, 1995 A Heart Divided Lee Stafford, 1992 Speaking of the Self Anshu Malhotra, Siobhan Lambert-Hurley, 2015-10-23 Many consider the autobiography to be a Western genre that represents the self as fully autonomous The contributors to Speaking of the Self challenge this presumption by examining a wide range of women s autobiographical writing from South Asia Expanding the definition of what kinds of writing can be considered autobiographical the contributors analyze everything from poetry songs mystical experiences and diaries to prose fiction architecture and religious treatises The authors they study are just as diverse a Mughal princess an eighteenth century courtesan from Hyderabad a nineteenth century Muslim prostitute in Punjab a housewife in colonial Bengal a Muslim Gandhian devotee of Krishna several female Indian and Pakistani novelists and two male actors who worked as female impersonators The contributors find that in these autobiographies the authors construct their gendered selves in relational terms Throughout they show how autobiographical writing in whatever form it takes provides the means toward more fully understanding the historical social and cultural milieu in which the author performs herself and creates her subjectivity Contributors Asiya Alam Afshan Bokhari Uma Chakravarti Kathryn Hansen Siobhan Lambert Hurley Anshu Malhotra Ritu Menon Shubhra Ray Shweta Sachdeva Jha Sylvia Vatuk A Heart Divided A. Susanna Wolf, 2003-11-01 Contemporary Pakistani Fiction in English Cara N. Cilano, 2013-04-12 Looking at a wide selection of Pakistani novels in English this book explores how literary texts imaginatively probe the past convey the present and project a future in terms that facilitate a sense of collective belonging The novels discussed cover a range of historical movements and developments including pre 20th century Islamic history the 1947 partition the 1971 Pakistani war the Zia years and post 9 11 Pakistan as well as pervasive themes including ethnonationalist tensions the zamindari system and conspiracy thinking The book offers a range of representations of how and whether collective belonging takes shape and illustrates how the Pakistani novel in English often overshadowed by the proliferation of the Indian novel in English complements Pakistani multi lingual literary imaginaries by presenting alternatives to standard versions of history and by highlighting the issues English language literary production bring to the fore in a broader Pakistani context It goes on to look at the literary devices and themes used to portray idea nation and state as a foundation for collective belonging The book illustrates the distinct contributions the Pakistani novel in English makes to the larger fields of postcolonial and South Asian literary and cultural studies
