

About Us

The BC Bereavement Helpline (BCBH) was established as a charity in 1988 and has become a provincial leader in providing education, support and advocacy for the bereaved, their caregivers and professionals.

Although BCBH specializes in supporting those affected by traumatic loss (in particular suicide and homicide), our Helpline volunteers are here to assist anyone experiencing any form of loss.

Grief extends beyond the loss of life. It may include change in community, the end of a job, relationship, or other significant life change. Each type of loss is valid and deserves recognition and support.

It's important to recognize that there is no time limit or "right" way to grieve. The grieving process is as unique to an individual as their fingerprint.

"Grief changes shape, but it never ends."
Nona Reeves

Why reach out? Although grief is a natural reaction to loss, sometimes you might feel alone or as though you need additional support. By connecting with others, you may find support and comfort in your grief. Although you may feel like you are the only person feeling this pain...
YOU ARE NOT ALONE!
