Good Reasons:

Dialogue and Learning in Mathematics Education Helle Alrø, Ole Skovsmose, 2002 Dialogue and Learning in Mathematics Education is concerned with communication in mathematics class rooms In a series of empirical studies of project work we follow students inquiry cooperation as well as students obstructions to inquiry cooperation Both are considered important for a theory of learning mathematics Special attention is paid to the notions of dialogue and critique A central idea is that dialogue supports critical learning of mathematics The link between dialogue and critique is developed further by including the notions of intention and reflection Thus a theory of learning mathematics is developed which is resonant with critical mathematics education

Believable Evidence Veli Mitova, 2017-05-25 Believable Evidence argues that evidence consists of true beliefs This claim opens up an entirely overlooked space on the ontology of evidence map between purely factualist positions such as those of Williamson and Dancy and purely psychologist ones such as that of Conee and Feldman Veli Mitova provides a compelling three level defence of this view in the first contemporary monograph entirely devoted to the ontology of evidence First once we see the evidence as a good reason metaethical considerations show that the evidence must be psychological and veridical Second true belief in particular allows epistemologists to have everything they want from the concept of evidence Finally the view helps us locate the source of the normative authority of evidence The book challenges a broad range of current views on the ontology of reasons and their normative authority making it a must read for scholars and advanced students in metaethics and epistemology

An Introduction to Epistemology - Second Edition Jack S. Crumley II, 2009-07-30 The second edition of Jack Crumley s An Introduction to Epistemology strikes a balance between the many issues that engage contemporary epistemologists and the contributions of the major historical figures He shows not only how philosophers such as Descartes Hume Locke Berkeley and Kant foreground the contemporary debates but also why they deserve consideration on their own terms A substantial revision of the first edition the second edition is even more accessible to students The new edition includes recent work on contextualism evidentialism externalism and internalism and perceptual realism as well the chapter on coherence theory is substantially revised reflecting recent developments in that area New to this second edition is a chapter on feminist epistemology which includes discussions of major positions and themes such as feminist empiricism feminist standpoint epistemology postmodern epistemology and feminist critiques of objectivity It presents the important contributions of philosophers such as Sandra Harding Helen Longino Genevieve Lloyd and others Each chapter ends with a list of study questions and readings for further study

Blameworthy Belief Nikolaj Nottelmann, 2007-07-18 Believing the wrong thing may sometimes have drastic consequences The question as to when a person is not only ill guided but genuinely at fault for holding a particular belief is an important one It touches upon the roots of our understanding of such notions as criminal negligence and moral responsibility The answer to this question may influence the extent to which we are willing to submit each other to punishments ranging from mild resentment to harsh prison terms This book presents an extensive effort to shed light on the conditions under which we may appropriately deem someone blameworthy for holding a particular belief It regiments and unifies several debates within contemporary epistemology ethics and legal scholarship Finally the book brings a new philosophical look on issues like our power to control beliefs and the extent and nature of foresight Practical Reality Jonathan Dancy,2000-08-03 Practical Reality is about the relation between the reason why we do things and the reasons why we should It maintains that current philosophical orthodoxy bowdlerizes this relation making it impossible to understand how anyone can act for a good reason In order to understand this Dancy claims we have to abandon current conceptions of the reasons why we act our motivating reasons as mental states of ourselves Belief desire explanations of action or purely cognitive accounts in terms of beliefs alone drive too great a wedge between the normative and the motivational Instead we have to understand a motivating reason as the sort of thing that could be a good reason for instance that the eggs are ready this rather than my believing that they are ready must be my reason for taking them off the cooker Most contemporary philosophers think that this view cannot be true Dancy aims to demonstrate that things can be as he thinks they must be By giving a fresh account of values and reasons he finds a place for normativity in philosophy of mind and action and strengthens the connection between these areas and ethics ERS Staff Report ,1987 Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society of England Royal Agricultural Society of England,1910 Vols for 1933 include the societys Farmers guide to agricultural research Perspectives on Psychologism Mark Amadeus Notturmo,1989 Business Ethics W. Michael Hoffman,Robert E. Frederick,Mark S. Schwartz,2014-02-10 The fifth edition of Business Ethics addresses current intriguing often complex issues in corporate morality through 53 readings and 30 pertinent case studies Now significantly updated it includes new leading articles related current cases and mini cases based on MBA student dilemmas Addresses a broad range of the most current intriguing often complex issues and cases in corporate morality Provides impartial point counterpoint presentations of different perspectives on the most important and highly contended issues of business ethics Updated and significant case studies are included to reinforce student learning Now contains mini cases based on actual MBA student dilemmas Each author has substantial experience in teaching writing and conducting research in the field
