The Good Negress A. J. Verdelle, 2025-04-08 Haunting this novel has all the dimension and beauty of song To read The Good Negress is to fall under a spell to open a window to fly Los Angeles Times Book Review Winner of the Harold D Vursell Memorial Award from the American Academy of Arts and Letters Black Caucus of the American Library Association Literary Awards Honor Book in Fiction Whiting Award for Fiction Finalist for the PEN Faulkner Award for Fiction Twenty years after its initial publication The Good Negress continues to be an important part of the literary canon as relevant and necessary as ever Set in 1960s Detroit the novel centers around Denise Palms who leaves her grandmother s home in rural Virginia to reunite with her mother stepfather and older brothers As a black teenage girl Denise is given scarce opportunity beyond cooking cleaning and raising her mother s baby But an idealistic demanding teacher opens Denise s eyes to a future she has never considered and soon she begins to question the limits of the life prescribed to her With lyrical evocative prose A J Verdelle captures Denise s journey from adolescence to womanhood as she navigates the tension between loyalty and independence and between circumstance and desire The Good Negress is an unforgettable debut simultaneously the portrait of a family and a glimpse into an era of twentieth century America Truly extraordinary Toni Morrison A J Verdelle weaves jolts into this strong plain story until it teeters on extraordinary A J Verdelle shatters perceptions quietly and Denise stays with us as she should The Boston Globe In this fascinating debut novel language becomes both a cause of oppression and a metaphor for it The Seattle Times

Depictions of Home in African American Literature Trudier Harris,2021-12-06 In Depictions of Home in African American Literature Trudier Harris analyzes fictional homespaces in African American literature from those set in the time of slavery to modern urban configurations of the homespace She argues that African American writers often inadvertently create and follow a tradition of portraying dysfunctional and physically or emotionally violent homespaces Harris explores the roles race and religion play in the creation of homespaces and how geography space and character all influence these spaces Although many characters in African American literature crave safe happy homespaces and frequently carry such images with them through their mental or physical migrations few characters experience the formation of healthy homespaces by the end of their journeys Harris studies the historical cultural and literary portrayals of the home in works from well known authors such as Richard Wright James Baldwin Toni Morrison and August Wilson as well as lesser studied authors such as Daniel Black A J Verdelle Margaret Walker and Dorothy West Archives of Ophthalmology ,1890
