Evaluating Development Effectiveness:

Evaluating Development Effectiveness George Keith Pitman, Osvaldo Nájstor Feinstein, Gregory K. Ingram, Practitioners give insights on building and satisfying demand for evaluation in developing countries and on the use of evaluation findings to improve decision making on development policies and programs This volume offers useful insights into methods for evaluating the effectiveness of development and assessing the performance of development aid and aid agencies BOOK

JACKET Challenges in Evaluating Development Effectiveness Howard White, 2005 Use of Randomization in the Evaluation of Development Effectiveness, 2003 In this paper we argue that current evaluation practices often encounter problems that prevent them from effectively determining program impact and that there is considerable scope for greater use of randomized evaluation methods in addressing these problems We review recent randomized evaluations of educational programs in developing countries including programs to increase school participation provide educational inputs and reform education and then extract lessons from these examples Finally we discuss the role the international agencies can play in promoting and financing rigorous impact evaluations including randomized evaluations

Evaluation in the Practice of Development Martin Ravallion, 2016 Knowledge about development effectiveness is constrained by two factors First the project staff in governments and international agencies who decide how much to invest in research on specific interventions are often not well informed about the returns to rigorous evaluation and even when they are cannot be expected to take full account of the external benefits to others from new knowledge This leads to under investment in evaluative research Second while standard methods of impact evaluation are useful they often leave many questions about development effectiveness unanswered The paper proposes ten steps for making evaluations more relevant to the needs of practitioners It is argued that more attention needs to be given to identifying policy relevant questions including the case for intervention that a broader approach should be taken to the problems of internal validity and that the problems of external validity including scaling up merit more attention

The Road to Results Linda G. Morra-Imas, Linda G. Morra, Ray C. Rist, 2009 The Road to Results Designing and Conducting Effective Development Evaluations presents concepts and procedures for evaluation in a development context It provides procedures and examples on how to set up a monitoring and evaluation system how to conduct participatory evaluations and do social mapping and how to construct a rigorous quasi experimental design to answer an impact question The text begins with the context of development evaluation and how it arrived where it is today It then discusses current issues driving development evaluation such as the Millennium Development Goals and the move from simple project evaluations to the broader understandings of complex evaluations The topics of implementing Results based Measurement and Evaluation and constructing a Theory of Change are emphasized throughout the text Next the authors take the reader down the road to results presenting procedures for evaluating projects programs and policies by using a Design Matrix to help map the process This road includes determining the overall approach formulating questions selecting designs developing data collection instruments choosing a sampling strategy and planning data analysis for qualitative quantitative and mixed method evaluations The book also includes discussions on conducting complex evaluations how to manage evaluations how to present results and ethical behavior including principles standards and guidelines The final chapter discusses the future of development evaluation This comprehensive text is an essential tool for those involved in development evaluation

Annual Review of Development Effectiveness, 2009, Achieving Sustainable Development World Bank, 2009 The Annual Review of Development Effectiveness 2009 presents evidence on the World Bank's efforts in two areas Part I tracks the outcomes of Bank projects and country programs and the evolution of monitoring and evaluation M E Part II examines the Bank's support for environmentally sustainable development compatible with economic growth and poverty reduction The Bank's project performance rebounded in 2008 allaying concerns about the weakened performance in 2007 As previous ARDEs have shown project performance has been improving gradually for 15 years according to the traditional measure percent of projects with satisfactory versus unsatisfactory outcomes But IEG ratings of M E quality for completed projects indicate considerable room for progress Information to assess impacts continues to be lacking although preliminary data suggests improvements in baseline data collection Bank support for the environment has recovered since 2002 due to new sources of concessional finance The outcomes of environment projects have improved in recent years A growing number of regional projects are addressing the shared use of water resources New global partnerships are deepening the Bank's involvement in climate change issues But M E remains weak three quarters of environment related projects those managed by sectors other than environment lack reporting of environmental outcomes      Challenges in Evaluating Development Effectiveness Lisa VeneKlasen, Howard White, 2004      Evaluating Development Programmes and Projects Reidar

Dale, 2004-11-16 Issues of evaluation methodology practice and use have become prominent in recent times since the need for evaluation is increasingly being felt in many different areas of public life This entirely New Edition of a successful book deals with the focus scope and methodology of evaluation in the field of societal development The focus is on development programmes and projects in lesser developed countries but the author s methodological frameworks have a wider framework

Assessment of Development Results ,2010 The evaluation recommended that it is important for UNDP Guyana to continue to reorient its programming towards higher level policy analysis in order to support the country s transition to a middle income status Also UNDP needs to focus on its comparative advantage and help Guyana explore alternative sources of support through South South regional and public private partnerships      Evaluation Country Development Policies and Programs Robert Picciotto, Ray C. Rist, 1995-10-02 This issue of New Directions for Evaluation deals with the special evaluation problems of programs in the developing world Over the last two decades the framework of economic and social development policy and practice has been transformed This is due in part to evaluation lessons which have helped to shape the new development priorities toward sustainability participation and insitutional development In turn evaluation must deal with the consequences of a more demanding agenda a more fractured development constituency and a vastly more complex set of analytical questions This publication presents the views of development policy makers practitioners and evaluators on the kinds of adjustments needed in the approaches instruments and processes used by development evaluators The chapters were discussed in draft form at a Conference on Evaluation and Development hosted by the world Bank in Washington D C in December 1994 The resulting collection offers a consistent framework for further debate and proposes new emphases for development evaluation This is the 67th issue in the journal series New Directions for Evaluation For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page      Development Effectiveness UNDP. Evaluating Teacher Effectiveness by Self-assessment Kirsi Tirri, 1993 The purpose of this study was to explore an American model Harris 1986 of effective classroom teaching behaviors as a framework for teachers professional growth The particular focus was on the self assessment component of the methods related to the model An empirical approach was adopted and comparative data were gathered from American and Finnish teachers using a common self evaluation instrument The study identified and analyzed cross cultural differences and culture specific behaviors The analysis revealed that a complete fit between the model and the data could not be found Discriminant analysis revealed interesting differences in the evaluation of teachers from different teaching traditions The American teachers were found to be much more dynamic in their classroom behavior than their Finnish colleagues Finnish teachers reflected their academic tradition well by giving much more emphasis to a businesslike type of behavior The research is presented in eight chapters as follows 1 Introduction

2 Teachers professional development 3 The reform traditions 4 Methods for helping teachers professional growth 5 The empirical framework 6 Cross cultural validity of the Harris model 7 Dimensions of teacher classroom behavior and 8 Discussions on methodology and conclusions Appendixes provide a copy of the questionnaire in English and in Finnish and computer listings for chapters 6 and 7 Contains approximately 175 references Author LL Development and Evaluation of Techniques for Assessment of Impact of Highway Development on Wildlife Populations and Habitats in the Upper Midwest, 1978 An Introductory Guide to EC Competition Law and Practice Valentine Korah, 1994

Annual World Bank Conference on Development Economics 2004 François Bourguignon, Boris Pleskovic, 2004 This publication contains selected papers from the 15th annual conference on international development issues held in Bangalore in May 2003 the first such conference to be held in a developing country The theme of the conference was accelerating development focusing on four key themes fostering entrepreneurship innovation and growth challenges of development in lagging regions participation and inclusion and scaling up and evaluation as well as an examination of development issues relevant to India such as infrastructure development Evaluating Human Resource Development Programs Oliver T. Massey, 1996 The authors provide a detailed introduction and discussion of the most important techniques available to evaluators for assessing human resource development programs They present broad practical coverage of conceptual and methodological issues Techniques discussed include quantitative and qualitative methods The strength of this book is its simple practical approach to describing the uses of evaluation methods and the inevitable advantages and disadvantages of each technique Each chapter discusses evaluation techniques including a fundamental description of the technique examples of its use in practical settings advantages and disadvantages and important points to remember Evaluators of Human Resource Development Programs in Public Health Agencies A Longwood Professional Book California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Records and Briefs California (State), Assessing World Bank Support for Trade, 1987-2004 Yvonne M. Tsikata, 2006 This evaluation of the Bank's assistance on trade related issues focuses on the period between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 The majority of developing countries have significantly improved their environment for trade and economic growth following over two decades of assistance from the Bank in trade reform Arguably the developing world is more open today than at any time in recent memory Developing countries have more than doubled their exports since the mid 1980s helping many of them to grow steadily Exports and imports have risen as a share of the gross domestic product GDP across a wide range of countries fueled in part by China's remarkable trade performance and the growth in services trade Trade policies have also been significantly liberalized Average import tariffs have fallen steadily over the period although the fall in other forms of protection has been more gradual Between fiscal years 1987 and 2004 about 8.1 percent of total Bank commitments went to 117 countries to help them better integrate into the global economy This financing has been accompanied by a large volume of analysis in operational economic and sector work ESW research publications on trade and working papers on trade related topics During the first phase starting in the 1980s the Bank focused largely on the traditional trade agenda related to opening up economies During the second phase from the mid to late 1990s the Bank s emphasis on trade declined although the impact of earlier trade reforms was still playing out In the third phase initiated with the collapse of the World Trade Organization WTO Seattle trade ministerial meeting in 1999 growing pressure to deliver on the Millennium Development Goals MDG and interest from development partners notably bilateral donors led the Bank to reappraise its trade activities This phase has focused on the global trading system and behind the border barriers to trade The Bank s trade activities during the period were led by a grade policy reform package supported by four components import related export related exchange rate and foreign exchange management and industrial and other supporting policies This assessment reviews project related outcomes and outputs to focus on the progress toward a more development friendly trading Recommendations include addressing poverty distributional outcomes and external shocks in a balanced approach revisiting the balance between global and country agendas and strengthening operational links on trade issues and strengthening knowledge management efforts
