

14. Communication: The dept. of National Food and Nutrition should take measures to communicate the public regarding the nutritional deficiency disorders, its prevention, and information regarding the nutritional programmes through effective methods of information, education and communication. All the outreach health care centers should be provided with adequate facilities for this purpose.

15. Community participation: For the effectiveness of the services provided for the public the government should create awareness among the public so as to gain their participation. Encourage the public to avail the nutritional health care services and for their maximum utilization.
