

The background of the book cover is a satellite-style image of Earth from space, showing the blue oceans and green continents. A large, dark, irregularly shaped rock, representing an asteroid or comet, is positioned on the left side of the frame. In the center of the Earth, there is a bright yellow-green circular glow with concentric ripples emanating from it, suggesting a recent impact or a specific hazard zone. The title text is overlaid on the upper portion of the image.
