

Healing Hearts

GRIEF PROGRAM FOR
8 TO 12 YEAR OLD CHILDREN

Healing Hearts is designed to help children begin to recognize and understand the many feelings associated with the death of someone loved. During this program, children also get a chance to interact with others who have experienced a death.

Through play, stories, games, songs, talking about feelings, art and conversations with a bunny puppet named Hamilton, they find a comfortable place to express their thoughts and feelings.

This program is available to all children in our community
at no charge.
Registration is required.

Alice Crosetto,Rajinder Garcha,2012-11-21 All human beings encounter loss and death as well as the grief associated with these experiences It is therefore important for children and adolescents to understand that such events are inevitable and to learn how to accept loss and cope with their emotions In order to help children through their pain parents and caregivers need access to the proper resources that will help them discuss these topics and educational professionals need reliable resources for creating courses of study on these subjects In Death Loss and Grief in Literature for Youth Alice Crosetto and Rajinder Garcha identify hundreds of resources that will help educators professionals parents siblings guardians and students learn about coping with the loss of a loved one and the grief process. These resources include books, Internet sites, and media titles aimed at students and those helping them through the grieving process. Chapters in this volume include fiction and non-fiction titles about the loss of a family member, a friend, and a pet, as well as general reference resources, curricular resources, and websites. Annotations provide complete bibliographical descriptions of the entries, and each entry is identified with the grade levels for which it is best suited. Reviews from recognized publications are also included wherever possible. Anyone interested in locating helpful resources regarding death and grieving will find much of value in this essential tool.

Parenting a Grieving Child (Revised) Mary DeTurrís Poust, 2015-08-01. Whether it's a friend or a family member, nearly every child will experience a loss in their early years, and the experience and feelings of a sad event can be confusing and scary. And when grief intrudes, children look to their parents and the adults in their lives to fix this pain, take away what they don't understand, and show them how to handle their emotions. Parenting a Grieving Child provides practical and approachable resources for Catholic parents and other adult helpers who work with children to use the power and traditions of the Catholic faith to accompany children as they work through their grief in a healthy way. As author Mary DeTurrís Poust points out, too often children are left out of the grieving process, and their specific grief issues are not addressed or are addressed in harmful ways. Children's grief is real and powerful, and it needs to be acknowledged and validated by the adults who are accompanying them through the grieving process. Drawing from the traditions and practices of the Catholic faith, Parenting a Grieving Child provides the steps parents can take to help their child through one of life's most difficult experiences.

Companioning the Grieving Child Alan Wolfelt, 2012-07-01. Renowned author and educator Alan Wolfelt redefines the role of the grief counselor in this guide for caregivers to grieving children. Providing a viable alternative to the limitations of the medical establishment's model for companioning the bereaved, Wolfelt encourages counselors and other caregivers to aspire to a more compassionate philosophy in which the child is the expert of his or her grief, not the counselor or caregiver. The approach outlined in the book argues against treating grief as an illness to be diagnosed and treated, but rather for acknowledging it as an event that forever changes a child's worldview. By promoting careful listening and observation, this guide shows caregivers, family members, teachers, and others how to support grieving children and help them grow into healthy adults.

How Children Grieve Corinne Masur, 2024-07-09. Understand how children process grief at every age and stage of development in this accessible guide for parents and caretakers. An award-winning childhood grief expert shares clinically informed advice for supporting kids and teens through difficult times, from family deaths and lost pets to unexpected moves and beyond. A necessary and impactful guide to understanding children's grief from the inside and to guiding children through loss, from the death of a parent and other family members to the loss of friends, pets, and even the family home. Dr. Masur, an award-winning clinical psychologist specializing in grief and mourning, describes how to understand, help, and guide children at each age and stage of development and uses her own childhood experience with loss through empathetic yet clinically informed advice When Dr Masur was fourteen years old her father died Like most children and teens facing loss Masur didn't know how to handle her grief and she was never encouraged to acknowledge or share what she was feeling with her family teachers or friends Her experience of shock and emotional paralysis around her loss is what led her to become an expert in childhood grief in order to help grieving children and to help others to support the children in their lives who have experienced loss As a psychologist and child psychoanalyst Dr Masur has helped many children recognize and express their feelings after loss In How Children Grieve Masur shares her expertise with caregivers of all kinds giving them the tools they need to help a child or teenager mourn move forward and make meaning of terrible loss

A Healing Place Kathryn Atwood, John Kelly, 2009-11-03 Real world advice for caregivers of grieving children from the founder of the nationally acclaimed non profit organization Kate's Club Kate's Club is dedicated to empowering children and teens who have lost loved ones Based on its founder's down to earth philosophy on how to handle grief A Healing Place aims to help parents cope with the realities and daily struggles grieving children face in a forthright compassionate manner The book is written from Kate's own personal experiences after having lost at the age of 12 her mother to breast cancer as well as featuring experiences of the many families she has encountered through Kate's Club Chapter topics include Embracing not erasing memories Giving the child a voice How caregivers can be strong role models Handling transitions and traditions
