Explaining Deconstruction:

Verstehen and Humane Understanding Anthony O'Hear, 1996 This 1997 collection of essays addresses topics that are of crucial importance to the lives of us all Is there a mode of thinking peculiar to human life and its concerns which is different from and irreducible to scientific rationality Is historical understanding different from scientific understanding Do psychology religion and aesthetics have their own forms of rationality Can you be rational about human life without being scientific The contributors address these and related questions some focusing on the history of the development of the notion of Verstehen others examining particular areas of discourse and practice

In the Borderlands of Teaching and Learning Bryant Griffith, 2019-02-11 The craft of teaching and learning is like playing in a symphony orchestra every instrument has a voice and every voice is integral to the whole The arts history anthropology and philosophy and their forged discourses offer us a series of cautionary tales about the multiplicity of ways we can see and understand our world ways we often ignore in the classroom In the case of epistemology and pedagogy in particular we have hinged our understanding on a binary of opposites engaged in a dialectic dance and a type of discourse constructed to describe and explain it The art and act of teaching in this as if world necessitates teachers to be public intellectuals intellectual symbols who represent something more than just subject knowledge expertise but serve as conduits between the discourses of our world Established genres and discourses are exclusionary The vast migration of people and ideas is producing a new set of presuppositions The manner in which we decode other discourses and fuse them into meanings both personal and shared is the root of both teaching and learning giving us a window into the way that each form of thought is connected both historically and experientially Look around you your school is becoming the United Nations but it s not so united Don t aim for truth aim for understanding Today s students construct and deconstruct in a multitude of ways on an as needed just in time basis Since ideas of difference are often nudged but unacknowledged we are in danger of becoming pedagogical dinosaurs not heeding change until it is too late Teaching and learning are construction zones so get out your hard hat These constructions are possibilities that need to be discussed and negotiated allowing us to sidestep the traps of grand narratives and a hierarchy of disciplinary and research methodology Our possibilities need to be forged on an anvil of diversity These are the spaces the interstices where our voices become innovative and our silence offers a safe harbor Spaces to listen collaborate and craft cautionary tales about our lives and the possibilities for a shared future

A Teacher's Introduction to Deconstruction Sharon Crowley, 1989 This monograph is designed to help English teachers see what it is that the literary theory of deconstruction has to offer them as they pursue their work The monograph focuses on the implications of deconstruction for the English classroom in American schools It includes a discussion of Jacques Derrida s philosophy of reading and writing a review of some American critics reactions to deconstruction and responses made by English teachers to the theory and an examination of a deconstructive reading of writing pedagogy as it underscores the appropriateness of much of the lore connected with process pedagogy The monograph also contains an appendix on How to Read Derrida three pages of endnotes a brief glossary of deconstructionist terminology a 70 item list of references an 11 item list of Derrida works not cited in the text a 38 item bibliography of works on Derrida and deconstruction and a 9 item list of exemplary readings on deconstruction RAE

The New Literary Criticism and the New Testament Elizabeth Struthers Malbon, Edgar V. McKnight, 1994-10-01 This publication presents the rich variety of critical methodologies in contemporary literary study of the New Testament The tradition of study represented in the essays lies at the conjunction of developments in biblical studies and literary criticism 1 the exhaustion of New Testament historical criticism in general and redaction criticism in particular 2 the waning of Formalist New Critical approaches in literary study and 3 the emphasis upon the text in terms of language and discourse as the free play of signifiers The essays deal with theory exegesis and their interdependence in this new literary context However contributions of earlier epochs in the history of literary criticism and New Testament study are integrated into current approaches For example the issue of reference originating in the mimetic theories of classical antiquity is raised implicitly and explicitly Implications of literary study for theology are suggested The relationship between redaction critical and literary approaches is examined Theoretical and exegetical essays growing out of feminist literary study are offered Orality allegory deconstruction ideology sociological criticism rhetorical criticism narrative criticism as well as other themes and methods are discussed in the essays treatment of writings of the New Testament A rich variety of critical methodologies in contemporary literary study of the New Testament

Discipline and Practice Stefan Herbrechter, Ivan Callus, 2004 Has theory become resistible Has it betrayed its promise and sold out on its practice Should theory after having become a discipline still lay claims on the radical or should it embrace its establishment within the university What future's could theory have if there is disagreement about its present's and its past's and what and how should it from now proceed to read

Counter-institutions Simon Wortham, 2006 This is an account of Jacques Derrida's involvement in debates about the university Derrida has long argued that philosophy simultaneously belongs and does not belong to the university This book asks whether a broader tension between belonging and not belonging also forms the basis of Derrida's political thinking and activism Explaining Deconstruction NA NA,2015-12-22 Biblical Hermeneutics as a Tool for Inculturation in Africa David J. Ndegwah,2007 The Crisis in Criticism William E. Cain,1984 This book is a statement of my views on a number of problems in literary theory and contemporary criticism But it is also as any theoretical study must be a progress report a record of inquiry that has not yet concluded In a sense a book on theory cannot really end At a certain point work on it ceases even though one continues to think critically and skeptically about the problems and the solutions that the book contains Preface p xi Explaining Deconstruction Kathleen Wheeler,C T Indra,1997 Critical Texts ,1982 Medicalisation of the Human Mind. Challenges to the Current System and Suggestions for Future Direction Nilani Ljunggren De Silva,2016-03-16 Scientific Study from the year 2015 in the subject Psychology Clinical Psychology Psychopathology Prevention language English abstract The scope of this book is to provide a clear account of clinical psychology and in doing so to critically analyse how our mind is being subjected to external forces by illuminating examples from fieldwork in Sweden China Sri Lanka Cambodia and the Philippines The book also provides a vibrant insight into humanistic psychology and this disposition is more in tune with postmodern philosophical disposition that is calling for deconstructing some of the existing knowledge to bring forth a new awareness that is conducive to present day realities It also suggests alternative ways in which clinical psychology can improve when treating people with psychological setbacks The writing can work as a handbook for students researchers and teachers as well as doctors who treat mental illnesses Not the least this book also gives school psychologists and educators who work in a plural and multicultural milieu a valuable insight Not only can this book also serve special teachers who work with children with different needs with valuable psychological hints to develop a better cognitive social emotional teacher pupil relationship To expand psychology by bringing knowledge from various disciplines such as pedagogy sociology culture political economy human geography and the field of neuroscience will certainly be a valuable project worth pursuing and that explains the rationale of writing a scholarship of this kind This interdisciplinary academic background that I gained throughout my academic years was the stepping stone towards that direction that is to analyse the present day clinical practices using a multidisciplinary approach

What is Deconstruction?
