House of Commons Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1868 The nouveau roman and Writing in Britain After Modernism Adam Guy,2019-12-05 The nouveau roman and Writing in Britain After Modernism recovers a neglected literary history In the late 1950s news began to arrive in Britain of a group of French writers who were remaking the form of the novel In the work of Michel Butor Marguerite Duras Robert Pinget Alain Robbe Grillet Nathalie Sarraute and Claude Simon the hallmarks of novelistic writing discernible characters psychological depth linear chronology were discarded in favour of other aesthetic horizons Transposed to Britain s highly polarized literary culture the nouveau roman became a focal point for debates about the novel For some the nouveau roman represented an aberration and a pernicious turn against the humanistic values that the novel embodied For others it provided a route out of the stultifying conventionality and conformism that had taken root in British letters On both sides one question persisted given the innovations of interwar modernism to what extent was the nouveau roman actually new This book begins by drawing on publishers archives and hitherto undocumented sources from a wide range of periodicals to show how the nouveau roman was mediated to the British public Of central importance here is the publisher Calder Boyars and its belief that the nouveau roman could be enjoyed by a mass public The book then moves onto literary responses in Britain to the nouveau roman focusing on questions of translation realism the end of empire and the writing of the project From the translations of Maria Jolas through to the hostile responses of the circle around C P Snow and onto the literary debts expressed in novels by Brian W Aldiss Christine Brooke Rose Eva Figes B S Johnson Alan Sheridan Muriel Spark and Denis Williams the nouveau roman is shown to be a central concern in the postwar British literary field

News of War Rachel Galvin,2017-10-13 News of War Civilian Poetry 1936 1945 is a powerful account of how civilian poets confront the urgent problem of writing about war The six poets Rachel Galvin discusses W H Auden Marianne Moore Raymond Queneau Gertrude Stein Wallace Stevens and C sar Vallejo all wrote memorably about war but still they felt they did not have authority to write about what they had not experienced firsthand Consequently these writers developed a wartime poetics engaging with both classical rhetoric and the daily news in texts that encourage readers to take critical distance from war culture News of War is the first book to address the complex relationship between poetry and journalism In two chapters on civilian literatures of the Spanish Civil War five chapters on World War II and an epilogue on contemporary poetry about the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan Galvin combines analysis of poetic form with attention to socio historical context drawing on rare archival sources and furnishing new translations In comparing how poets wrestled with the limits of bodily experience and with the ethical political and aesthetic problems they faced Galvin theorizes the concept of meta rhetoric a type of ethical self interference She argues that civilian writers employed strategies drawn from journalism precisely to question the objectivity and facticity of war reporting Civilian poetics of the 1930s and 1940s was born from writers desire to acknowledge their own socio historical position and to write poems that responded ethically to the gravest events of their day
