University of California, 1977-01-06 How did architects get to be architects in any given period in history How were they trained How did they find their clients and communicate with them What did society think of them Spiro Kostof's The Architect a collection of essays by historians and architects explores these and other intriguing questions about the

to the modern day it is the most complete synthesis to date of our knowledge of how the architect's profession developed Included are a major study of the Beaux Arts a vivid memoir by the distinguished architect Joseph Esherick and an excellent chapter on women which demonstrates how the ethic of professionalism has contributed to the exploitation of women in this as in many other professions The Architect places the current dilemma about the architect's role in society in historical by the creativity of women as shapers designers patrons and educators But in a narrative that tends towards the promotion of their male counterparts their contributions are all too often overlooked Women Design rediscovers and revels in the work of such influential figures as Eileen Gray Lora Lamm and Lella Vignelli while shining a spotlight on modern day trailblazers such as Kazuyo Sejima Hella Jongerius and Neri Oxman Publisher's description     Architect and Engineer of California
