Gerrit Smith

Gerrit Smith was a wealthy landowner, politician, and one of the most active white abolitionists in 19th-century America. He was born on March 6, 1797, in Utica, New York, into a wealthy family. Instead of using his money only for personal gain, Smith used much of his fortune to support causes he believed in, especially the fight to end slavery.

Smith believed that slavery was wrong and that every person had the right to be free. He used his money and influence to help enslaved people escape and to support anti-slavery newspapers and organizations. He also gave speeches and wrote articles calling for the immediate end of slavery.

One of Gerrit Smith's most important contributions was giving away land to African Americans. In the 1840s, he gave thousands of acres of land in New York State to free Black men. He hoped this would help them become independent and allow them to vote, since land ownership was often required for voting rights.

Smith was also involved in politics. He ran for president three times as a candidate of abolitionist parties and served one term in the U.S. House of Representatives. He even supported more radical actions, like helping finance John Brown's raid on Harpers Ferry, an attempt to start a slave rebellion.

Though his ideas were sometimes considered extreme at the time, Gerrit Smith remained committed to justice and equality. He died in 1874, but his generosity and courage left a lasting mark on the abolitionist movement and American history.

The Black Hearts of Men John Stauffer,2009-06-30 At a time when slavery was spreading and the country was steeped in racism two white men and two black men overcame social barriers and mistrust to form a unique alliance that sought nothing less than the end of all evil Drawing on the largest extant bi racial correspondence in the Civil War era John Stauffer braids together these men s struggles to reconcile ideals of justice with the reality of slavery and oppression Who could imagine that Gerrit Smith one of the richest men in the country would give away his wealth to the poor and ally himself with Frederick Douglass an ex slave And why would James McCune Smith the most educated black man in the country link arms with John Brown a bankrupt entrepreneur along with the others Distinguished by their interracial bonds they shared a millennialist vision of a new world where everyone was free and equal As the nation headed toward armed conflict these men waged their own war by establishing model interracial communities forming a new political party and embracing violence Their revolutionary ethos bridged the divide between the sacred and the profane black and white masculine and feminine and civilization and savagery that had long girded western culture In so doing it embraced a malleable and black hearted self that was capable of violent revolt against a slaveholding nation in order to usher in a kingdom of God on earth In tracing the rise and fall of their prophetic vision and alliance Stauffer reveals how radical reform helped propel the nation toward war even as it strove to vanquish slavery and preserve the peace Gerrit Smith and the Vigilant Association of the City of New-York (Classic Reprint) Gerrit Smith,2017-01-09 Excerpt from Gerrit Smith and the Vigilant Association of the City of New York As Mr Smith belongs to no Society has always opposed secret societies had never before heard of this Central Association and condemns all shedding of human blood save by Government he necessarily feels himself to be deeply wronged by you and your associates He holds you and them responsible for calling in effect upon the people both of the North and South to detest and abhor him About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The National Cyclopaedia of American Biography ,1906 Gerrit Smith and the Vigilant Association of the City of New-York Gerrit Smith,2020-05-11 This is a reproduction of the original artefact Generally these books are created from careful scans of the original This allows us to preserve the book accurately and present it in the way the author intended Since the original versions are generally quite old there may occasionally be certain imperfections within these reproductions We are happy to make these classics available again for future generations to enjoy
