AI and Cognitive Science '91 Humphrey Sorensen, 2013-03-14 This book contains the edited versions of papers presented at the Fourth Irish Conference on Artificial

Intelligence and Cognitive Science AICS 91 which was held at University College Cork Ireland on 19 20 September 1991 The main aims of this annual conference series are to promote AI research in Ireland to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas amongst different disciplines concerned with the study of cognition and to provide an opportunity for industry to see what research is being carried out in Ireland and how it might benefit from the results of this research While most of the participants at the conference came from universities and companies within Ireland a positive feature was the interest shown from outside the country resulting in participants from Britain USA and Italy The keynote speaker was Professor James A Bowen North Carolina State University who spoke on future trends in knowledge representation The topics covered in the presented papers included fundamental approaches to AI natural language knowledge representation information retrieval deduction epistemics and vision The sponsors of the conference were Digital Equipment Co Galway and Eolas the Irish Science and Technology Board March 1992 Humphrey Sorensen Contents Section 1 Foundations and Methodologies Toward a New Foundation for Cognitive Science S 6 Nuallain 3 Towards an Adequate Cognitive Model of Analogical Mapping M T Keane and S Duff 37 HOST A HOLISTIC System Theory G Hartnett and H Sorensen Social Innovations in Education, Environment, and Healthcare Chandan, Harish Chandra, 2024-07-17 In the 21st century traditional approaches to societal challenges often fall short The need for innovative solutions is palpable grounded in the understanding that progress is contingent upon embracing change Scholars policymakers and institutions grapple with the delicate balance between economic growth and social well being The dichotomy between technical and social innovations becomes apparent necessitating a comprehensive understanding of their interplay The urgency to bridge this gap addressing societal needs while fostering economic prosperity forms the crux of the challenge Social Innovations in Education Environment and Healthcare emerge as an illuminating solution Authored by experts in the field this book offers a compelling exploration of social innovation as the key to unlocking transformative change By delving into the intricacies of ideation collaboration implementation and value creation the book provides a roadmap for scholars policymakers non profit organizations for profit firms and universities It dismantles the barriers between developed and developing nations advocating for a global perspective in the pursuit of inclusive and impactful social innovations Tour Book, 2002 The New Urban Park Hal Rothman, 2004 From Yellowstone to the Great Smoky Mountains America's national parks are sprawling tracts of serenity most of them carved out of public land for recreation and preservation around the turn of the last century America has changed dramatically since then and so has its conceptions of what parkland ought to be In this book one of our premier environmental historians looks at the new phenomenon of urban parks focusing on San Francisco's Golden Gate National Recreation Area as a prototype for the twenty first century Cobbled together from public and private lands in a politically charged arena the GGNRA represents a new direction for parks as it highlights the long standing tension within the National Park Service between preservation and recreation Long a center of conservation the Bay Area was well positioned for such an innovative concept Writing with insight and wit Rothman reveals the many complex challenges that local leaders politicians and the NPS faced as they attempted to administer sites in this area He tells how Representative Phillip Burton guided a comprehensive bill through Congress to establish the park and how he and others expanded the acreage of the GGNRA redefined its mission to the public forged an identity for interconnected parks and struggled against formidable odds to obtain the San Francisco Presidio and convert it into a national park Engagingly written The New Urban Park offers a balanced examination of grassroots politics and its effect on municipal state and federal policy While most national parks dominate the economies of their regions GGNRA was from the start tied to the multifaceted needs of its public and political constituents including neighborhood ethnic and labor interests as well as the usual supporters from the conservation movement As a national recreation area GGNRA helped redefine that category in the public mind By the dawn of the new century it had already become one of the premier national park areas in terms of visitation Now as public lands become increasingly scarce GGNRA may well represent the future of national parks in America Rothman shows that this model works and his book will be an invaluable resource for planning tomorrow s parks
