Languages, Compilers and Run-time Environments for Distributed Memory Machines J. Saltz, P. Mehrotra, 2014-06-28

Papers presented within this volume cover a wide range of topics related to programming distributed memory machines. Distributed memory architectures, although having the potential to supply the very high levels of performance required to support future computing needs, present awkward programming problems. The major issue is to design methods which enable compilers to generate efficient distributed memory programs from relatively machine-independent program specifications. This book is the compilation of papers describing a wide range of research efforts aimed at easing the task of programming distributed memory machines.

MACRO-11 Assembly Language C. Jinshong Hwang, Darryl E. Gibson, 1986

This text has a three-fold purpose: 1 to teach assembly language in general and MACRO 11 in particular; 2 to teach the computer architecture of the PDP 11, the LSI 11, and the Professional 300 series of computers; and 3 to demonstrate how the concepts of structured programming can be applied to assembly language. The examples used to illustrate the various concepts are complete in the sense that they proceed from the verbalized problem through the logic design and coding stages to the final output. The student sees the entire developmental process through which the programmer proceeds to produce the final program.
